REPUBLICAN prospects in Kansas have grown so dismal that the Kansas City Journal has resurrected the "bloody shirt" issue.

WITH democratic majorities increased in democratic states and republican majorities decreased in republican states, the outlook for the beneficiaries of the "stand pat" theory is not so bright as it might be.

THE republican managers are frightened. They show indications of retreating in the campaign cry of "stand pat for Roosevelt" and make it "Remember the Maine—election!"

A PENNSYLVANIA man drank ice water the other day and became paralyzed. We know of lots of other people who have become paralyzed but not from drinking ice water. Best Beloved, not from drinking ice water.

A MACHINE with which to forecast earthquakes has been installed in the University of California. However, a machine to prevent them would be really something worth while.
